ANSWERING DR. CAMERON

A Defender Hour
Broadcast

DR. GERALD B. WINROD

I HAVE RECEIVED many letters from Defender Hour listeners in various parts of the Country saying that I should answer the attack by Dr. Charles S. Cameron which appeared in "This Week," a Sunday newspaper supplement of wide circulation.

According to the article, Dr. Cameron's title is "Medical and Scientific Director of the American Medical Association."

A great many newspapers insert "This Week," a well edited piece of literature, in their Sunday editions. By this means it reaches a large segment of American readers. Some of the material published from week to week is well worth reading.

But this cannot be said of Dr. Cameron's article, which tries to bunch all individuals and groups together who are treating cancer with methods other than those approved by the American Medical Association. He calls them quacks.

There really isn't much to answer in the Cameron article. It's the same old stuff, a shoddy rehash. He makes a few good points with which every thinking person, interested in the relief of pain and suffering, must agree. Then he spoils it by resorting to unethical insinuations, half truths, discredited propaganda and vilification.

He stoops low, leaves false impressions and repeatedly strikes below the belt. The editors of "This Week" published an editorial in connection with Dr. Cameron's article, saying that their next edition would deal with the stomach-ache. This was quite understandable!

ATTACK AIMED AT HOXSEY

The average reader, of course, realized that the blast was aimed at Dr. Harry M. Hoxsey and the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic of Dallas, Texas, where thousands (I said thousands) of cancer victims have gone and are today sound and well, symptom free.

There are large filing cabinets at the Clinic, bulging with records. There are thousands of pathological reports in these cabinets. I have seen them. They tell a wonderful story of triumph over cancer.

So when you hear Dr. Hoxsey maligned, remember one thing. He has truth on his side. I do not believe the opposition will be able to stop him. Too many millions of people now know that a cure for cancer exists. Too many sufferers have gone to Dallas, carrying the death sentence in their flesh, and are today enjoying health.

Truth has a way of triumphing in the end. I have seen the Hoxsey treatment plastered with falsehoods. I have heard Walter Winchell and others make utterly irresponsible statements. But I have every confidence that the cure will survive because truth is mighty. Truth has a way of triumphing in the end. "Truth crushed to earth will rise again."

It is not an unusual thing for men

Senator Haluska's Great Speech

Never in the history of The Defender Magazine have as many orders for reprints of an article been received ... as the number resulting from the publishing of Senator John J. and women of originality, persons who give new knowledge to the world, to encounter prejudice and opposition. Individuals and groups occupying positions of power do not like to be disturbed.

CAMERON'S FRIENDS BEING HURT FINANCIALLY

The plain truth is that certain medical bodies are afraid that Dr. Hoxsey will put them out of business. They know he has a cure for cancer, something they do not have, and they fear him.

And yet he would gladly give them, share with them everything he possesses — with one understanding, that the discoveries be used for the relief of pain and suffering. But no, they prefer to slap him in the face!

It is a matter of record that attempts have been made to bribe him, and intimidate him, into turning the treatment over to interests wishing to bottle it up ... and keep it from reaching the public. Thank God, he has successfully resisted all such pressure.

The service rendered by the Hoxsey institution at Dallas, the simple but effective medications used, cost the sufferer only a fraction of the expense involved by the futile cutting and burning methods which have the approval of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Hoxsey has already saved cancer victims of the United States hundreds of thousands of dollars, and this means that somebody is taking a financial loss.

The plain truth is, the Hoxsey cancer cure is hurting the business of certain groups for whom Dr. Cameron is a spokesman. I hate to say it, but it's just as simple as that!

QUACK. QUACK. QUACK

Now let us look at the article. The word "quack" and its derivatives appears exactly 40 times. A man in Oklahoma writes me that he read the story aloud to his family. He repeated the word so often that his little boy asked if he was reading about Donald Duck.

Dr. Cameron deals only in generalities. He talks about alleged quacks but never gets around to mentioning a single individual or organization. He leaves his readers in a state of suspended animation.

We read paragraphs like this: "It's a profitable enterprise. The yearly take of those cancer quacks we actually

ANOTHER DISCOVERY AT THE TOMB OF CHRIST

AS MIGHT be expected, great interest is being manifested in the discovery of the Underground Church, carved out of solid rock, near the Tomb of Christ in Jerusalem ... explained in the March and April numbers of The Defender.

This amazing archaeological development added to the pleasure and profit of the large number of visitors, to the Garden of the Tomb, during the Easter season just past.

Those who have descended to the floor of the subterranean edifice, 51 feet below the ground level, have been charmed with its beauty. A well known minister and qualified archaeologist who made the descent a few days ago by means of a rope ladder and torch, expressed himself as follows: "This has been a great experience. If I saw nothing else on the present trip to the Holy Land, this alone would be sufficient to justify the effort. It is undoubtedly a very old church."

Many will recall that the Church was thought to be one of three cisterns in the Garden, having been sealed by unknown persons in the past, and converted into a vast container. The Warden, who looks after the premises, became concerned when the water line dropped below a normal position and, going down to investigate, discovered an auditorium 56 feet and 8 inches in length ... and 33 feet and 4 inches in width.

The carving of a Cross 4 feet and 2 inches high ... and 3 feet 4 inches wide was noted on the east wall. A circular baptismal pool 10 feet in diameter and 5 feet deep was observed near the south wall.

Although no definite method existed for determining the origin and age of the Church, its great antiquity was at once recognizable. Competent observers expressed the opinion that it was used in apostolic times, perhaps constructed under the direction of the Apostles themselves.

While in Jerusalem for the Easter festivities last month, Dr. John R. Turnbull (Superintendent of Defender missionary work in the countries of the Middle East), came upon information which promises to contribute to the solution of this problem.

The following Associated Press dispatch under a Jerusalem dateline appeared in newspapers over the United States on April 10th ... reporting a portion of Dr. Turnbull's message delivered at a religious service held near the entrance of the Tomb:

"The Protestants, principally Americans, gathered at the Garden Tomb, a rock hewn grave 'outside the old city's walls which was discovered by British Gen. Charles George Gordon in the 19th century. Many Protestants now believe this was Christ's Tomb. Within 50 feet of the garden, the worshippers could see a hill resembling a skull which many believe was Calvary.

"Dr. John R. Turnbull, a missionary in Beirut, Lebanon, told the pilgrims recent excavations indicate they were amid the ruins of one of Christendom's oldest churches. He said remains of an ancient subterranean Chapel were recently found adjoining a cistern in the Garden. The excavations are continuing under the supervision of the Jordan government. Turnbull said human remains already have been found in the area, indicating early Christians sought burial near Christ's Tomb."

WHILE in Jerusalem, Dr. and Mrs. Turnbull were guests of the Palestine Excavation Fund (name of a famous archaeological society founded in 1865, responsible for numerous excavations over a period of many years in Bible lands).

There they learned for the first time that one of the world's leading archaeologists had discovered the Underground Church 65 years ago and so stated in official reports of the society during the years 1890 and 1891. His name was Baurath C. Schick.

Conditions were such in those days that, from all indications, the discovery failed to receive the attention it deserved. Christians did not have the ready access to Holy Land shrines enjoyed today. Biblical archaeology was then a comparatively infant science.

Moreover, most of Schick's writings were in German. Some reports were published in English and representatives of Palestine Excavation Fund gave Dr. Turnbull access to their archives.

Dr. Turnbull copied the following paragraphs from one of the Schick reports for Defender readers:

"Number 1 (referring to a drawing) is rather a large cistern, the greater part cut in the rock with its four sides inclining, not perpendicular, so that the space which had to be arched over is much smaller than the bottom of the cistern. The roof is not rock, but a curious tunnel arching, very much pointed and with sides nearly straight, made of hewn stones ...

"The last repairs were done by Christians, as there are on the eastern side, some feet above the bottom, and near both ends, Crosses 4 feet 6 inches high and 3 feet wide ...

"This remarkable cistern is certainly not of Mohammedan or Christian origin, but apparently Canaanitic, its form being like so many made by Canaanites in rock; but I have never before seen one so large."

Schick's reference to two Crosses is puzzling, since those visiting the Underground Church have so far reported only one.

If the famed archaeologist was correct in his deduction that the structure was of CANAANITE origin, this means it antedates the Apostles ... and at the same time suggests that Christians later turned it into a place of worship, as indicated by the Cross (or Crosses) rock baptismal tank and other features.

Dr. Turnbull observes: "At what time the Cistern-Church was first used for worship purposes has not been proven to our satisfaction, but it is gratifying to know that research demonstrates it could have been so used in the days of the Apostles, since it was made (if Schick is correct) long before that period. It is logical to believe that the Apostles would not have had time to hew out such a large place of worship, but would use it if already prepared."

coveries significant to religious thought would be forthcoming. Early Christians wanted to be as near as possible to the places where their Lord was crucified and buried. They were charmed by the location of His triumph over death.

On March 18th, while conducting excavations, Mr. Mattar came upon another archaeological find, the importance of which cannot be properly evaluated. Using usual implements employed for digging purposes, he unexpectedly came upon the remains of an iron chest which had rusted away to ashes, but the astonishing contents were in a perfect state of preservation. What follows is truly something for the history books:

Reproduced on the opposite page is a likeness of the artifact, placed in an iron chest by reverent hands and hidden in soil near the Tomb of our Lord, some time in centuries past. This act is believed to have been performed in the days of the Apostles.

The artifact is made of gold, silver and precious stones. No description can do it justice. The Sunburst in the background, with rays of light extending outward, is solid gold. The Cross is made of 12 rubies. The five Stones at the top are green in color. The large Bird and seven little birds at the bottom, are silver. The Stones arranged in a semi-circle at the bottom are crystal white. Mr. Mattar interprets the symbolism of this beautiful creation as follows:

(1) The golden Sunburst represents God the Father.

(2) The Cross represents God the Son.

(3) The silver Bird represents God the Holy Spirit.

(4) The five Gems at the top represent the five wounds inflicted upon Christ's body.

(5) The 12 Rubies, shaped in the form of a Cross, represent the 12 disciples.

(6) The seven silver Birds, sheltered by the mother Bird, represent the seven Churches of Asia Minor, described in the Apocalypse.

(7) The 11 crystal Stones at the bottom represent the disciples, minus Judas.

The hearts of all Defender readers will thrill to this report. One cannot help wondering what tomorrow may bring forth as the excavations continue near the Tomb — on what has been called "earth's most sacred spot."

(Note: The Editor of The Defender has had reprints of this artifact processed on heavy glossy paper, resembling photographs, for members of his great family of readers. Up to five copies will be sent free of charge to persons desiring them. Stamps or coin to cover handling and postage will be appreciated, since thousands of requests are sure to be received.)

THE POLIO VACCINE TRAGEDY

A GREAT MANY inquiries regarding the Salk polio vaccine, as promoted by intensified publicity, have reached Defender offices. Instead of expressing an instant and instinctive reaction, it was decided to consult authorities who have specialized in this type of research. Certain conclusions can now be drawn.

Studies disclosed that health officials in several States viewed the inoculation program with fear and suspicion when it was first announced. Recent developments indicate that these inhibitions were not without foundation.

Los Angeles, acting through its City Health Officer, Dr. George Uhl, rejected all approaches by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. On February 24, 1954 he notified the California Department of Public Health that "Los Angeles will not go ahead with the program" — and immediately became a target for abuse.

A press dispatch from Springfield, Illinois of January 16, 1954 stated:

"The State of Illinois demanded today that the National Infantile Foundation prove an anti-polio vaccine is not dangerous before it tests it on school children."

Health authorities of Minnesota announced at the same time that they were adopting a "wait and see" attitude. Similar expressions were heard from Ohio and New York States. But opposition at such levels was swept away by a high-powered publicity campaign. Medical men who dared express their convictions were subjected to terrific pressure.

Duon H. Miller (of Coral Gables, Florida), president of Polio Prevention, Inc., issued earlier this year a bulletin of prophetic content, in which he said:

"Most any day now, there will begin in this Country, the most horrible, unthinkable, dangerous, vicious crusade against health ever conceived. One million little children will be offered as sacrifices on the altar of greed, having their life's blood polluted with Dr. Salk's fraudulent vaccine — dead virus pickled in formalin (formaldehyde), which is embalming fluid if you please. This vaccination fraud is a frantic effort to prevent the public from learning the truth about the utter worthlessness of the 'March of Dimes'."

Dr. T. M. Schippell (of Washington, D. C.), editor of Herald of Health, sounded a similar warning over a year ago:

"Parents, play safe! Let other callous parents permit this poisoning of their children. Just take your youngster off candy, soft drinks and colas and infantile paralysis will pass you by. Remember polio is not catching. It comes from the inside of overindulged kids."

this warning: "The injection of any serum, vaccine or even penicillin, has shown a very marked increase in the incidence of polio, at least 400 per cent. Statistics on this are so conclusive, no one can deny it."

During the interim, between the time when the shots were administered to the children and the issuance of the official Salk report, boys and girls receiving the vaccine were knocked down by polio in all parts of the Country. This made no difference to the promoters of "operation needle."

Press reports under headlines like this one, "Girl Takes Polio After Vaccination," appeared in Houston, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Dayton, Syracuse, Peoria, Pontiac, Port Huron, Seattle, Fort Wayne, Bradford, Corpus Christi, Topeka and other cities. And yet the promoters went ahead with their program of destruction.

No President of the United States ever made a greater blunder than the impulsive and talkative Mr. Eisenhower who threw the full force of the White House behind the scheme . . . despite the fact that Duon H. Miller had written him on December 15, 1954:

"Polio is not a disease as the average person interprets the word. It is a problem of body chemistry. Polio is not caused by any live virus or mysterious little bug. The American people, were this past summer, victims of one of the greatest frauds in the history of mankind, when thousands of little children were injected with a poison vaccine. God does not cure the body by adding poisons and foreign substances to it."

A researcher to whom The Defender assigned one phase of the task of assembling information submits the following memorandum:

"Salk makes the ridiculous claim of 90 to 99 per cent success for his vaccine. No more cruel and wicked untruth was ever uttered. The figures reported by Salk, carried on all press services and featured as a terrific build up for public acceptance, are these:

"Of approximately 440,000 children who received the vaccine in the public tests only 71 got polio after taking the dosage. So Salk and his helpers say 'look how wonderful, our product is almost 100 per cent effective.' Rubbish! Don't believe it! For the figures are based on the assumption that all of the children given the shots would have got polio. Elements of truth are wholly lacking.

"The Salk reports show that a control was run, which means that children were checked who had not received the vaccine. The question rises, how many of the children came down with polio? According to Salk's figures, of the 1,400,000 children who were checked and did not receive the vaccine, 425 got polio."

"Now we can evaluate these figures and form an opinion. In the first place where children were given the vaccine, about 17 out of every 100,000 got polio anyway.

"Next out of 1,400,000 who did not receive the vaccine about 30 out of 100,000 got polio. The difference is so small as to completely negate the value of the figures as an affirmative argument.

"In other words, the greatest claim they can make for their statistics is that your child has the chance of 17 in 100,000 of getting polio if he takes the vaccine. And if he does not take it, has a chance of about 30 in 100,000 of getting polio."

Nothing was said about the cause of the disease in the barrage of publicity, for the reason that the entire approach toward immunizing the public against it is wrong. Organized medicine is working in the dark against an unknown invader.

Parents are asked to accept a vaccine which is misrepresented as to its effective value, for use against an enemy who is unknown or is at least an X factor.

No course in medicine is required to understand that poison injected into the blood stream must manifest itself in some way. The Salk creation seems to produce polio instead of destroying it. But if the poison poured into the child's blood does not come forth in this form, ailments of a different nature may be expected.

Morris Bealle of Washington, D. C., says:

"The most highly publicized of all money collecting rackets has been that of infantile paralysis, technically called poliomyelitis. To keep patients in hospitals and wheel chairs for months and years is more profitable to the drug trust and its satellites than to cure them in 48 hours or a week. For this reason the Infantile Paralysis Association sees to it that this is not done."

One Defender reader wrote, wishing to know:

"Is Dr. Salk a Jew? Are Jewish people giving the vaccine to their children? None of the family names of children stricken by polio as a result of vaccinations appear to be Jewish."

The answer to the first question is, Yes. The answer to the second is, We do not know.

The following dispatch came over press wires from New York on May 4, 1954:

"Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Salk, parents of Dr. Jonas E. Salk, discoverer of the anti-polio vaccine, were honored today as 'Jewish Parents of the Year' by the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies of New York."

The Salk vaccine is a cruel fraud and hoax. It has altered nothing except the unhappy mother, father or crippled child who gets polio from taking the inhuman shot. May God have mercy on the souls of those responsible for perpetrating this crime against humanity (particularly the helpless children who must suffer)!

WE HAVE SEEN THE LORD

Sermon Of The Month

DR. J. F. RODRIGUEZ
RIO PIEDRAS, PUERTO RICO

"But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus." Acts 9:27.

HE HAD seen the Lord." This passage relates to Paul's experience and conversion as he approached Damascus, officially deputized by the Jerusalem Sanhedrin to persecute followers of Christ residing in the city.

There was understandable suspicion on the part of believers when the convert later entered their midst. They wondered if the change was genuine and feared a trick. Barnabas, a credited leader of the early Church, did not hesitate to associate with him.

Our text is part of a convincing defense by Barnabas. Leaders of the Church at Jerusalem and elsewhere became satisfied when they heard Paul pray and listened to his testimony. He spoke their language. His words had the right ring. Barnabas assured them that "he had seen the Lord."

In the comparatively recent past, Paul (then Saul) had received rabbinical training at Gamaliel's school in Jerusalem. The exact date of his birth is unknown. It may be surmised that he was about the same age as the Master.

When Jesus was working in Joseph's carpenter shop, the boy Saul was probably playing in the streets of Tarsus.

Stephen was stoned in 33 A.D., and according to the record, Saul was at the time "a young man." The Greek word for "young" in Acts 7:58 is neanias and may mean up to forty. If it is true that Saul was a member of the Sanhedrin, he would have had to be at least thirty according to Talmudic law.

Tarsus, located in south eastern Asia Minor, was one of three leading cities of learning, the other two being Athens and Alexandria. To live there was considered an honor.

Saul was a zealot and sincere in everything he did, even when torturing believers. He was trained in an intellectual climate that made hatred for the Christ seem natural. He was a pharisee. But he overlooked one thing, namely, that truth thrives on persecution.

The Sanhedrin actually scattered the flame its leaders were trying to extinguish. "Therefore they that were scattered abroad went everywhere preaching the word." The history of the Church is a record of progress through persecution. The blood of martyrs has always had a purifying effect.

In later years, after Saul had become converted to the faith he had tried so vigorously to destroy, he never forgave himself for his sinful past. Looking back, he deplored the crimes committed against the Church and regarded himself as being unworthy of apostleship.

MEDITATIONS

It is safe to say that Paul never once saw Jesus in His corporeal body. There would surely have been some reference in the apostolic letters to such an experience.

Upon finishing his education in Jerusalem, he probably returned home for a time. Had he been in Palestine during the movement of John the Baptist and the ministry of Jesus, there would have been some record made of it. A man of his type would have been lined up on one side or the other.

"And Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem."

When a group of believers was found testifying, singing and praying, he or his associates would rush in, kill some, imprison others, break up families and drive many into exile. The darkest trait of all is that they frequently compelled victims to blaspheme the name of the Saviour.

It was a long, tiresome journey from Jerusalem to Damascus in ancient times, requiring several days. I made the same trip last year by automobile in a few hours. Paul probably traveled by oxcart.

He had plenty of time in desert stillness by day and night, for meditation and retrospection. He had never succeeded in putting thoughts of the contortions and dying agonies of the righteous Stephen out of his mind. Why should people be willing to endure persecution for such a cause!

In memory he saw himself standing there that day, on the margin of a wild scene, the many-colored robes of the murderers lying in a pile at his feet. As the blood gushed from the angry wounds produced by flying stones, the first Christian martyr offered a prayer for his persecutors. Why should Stephen have been willing to die for such a cause!

FIGHTING AGAINST GOD

Even prior to Paul's conversion, he had a sensitive conscience. Something in him gave resistance to his vicious acts. But this deep moral stratum was coated over with a layer of sincerity. He had been told that it was right to torture followers of the detested Nazarene, but still there was something in his nature that rebelled.

This is implied by the words of the Lord spoken to him as he neared Damascus: "It is hard for thee to kick against the kentron." The King James Version translates kentron to read "pricks," but the best meaning is "goad." The figure is clearly drawn from ox driving. "It is hard for thee to kick against the goad."

It is a familiar sight on the mountain roads of my beautiful Puerto Rico, to see a man seated in an oxcart jogging along, holding in his hand a long pole with a piece of sharp metal fastened to the end. This is used for directing the animal. If the beast kicks against the goad, a wound is inflicted.

The metaphor of the risen Master about kicking against the goad, unveils before us a man tortured by his own conscience. "Saul, why do you wound yourself by bringing this sorrow upon my people? Why do you lacerate your soul with the thin edge of an outraged conscience? It is hard for thee to kick against the goad."

There was a delicate sense of justice and human feeling in the persecutor which was being outraged by his wicked behaviour. He was suffering mentally and emotionally while Christ's followers were suffering physically. He found it difficult to fight against God.

It is probable that Saul had witnessed many agonizing scenes comparable to what Stephen endured. He was forced to admit to himself that his victims were harmless, not bad people, had wronged no one, and were of a higher order morally than those around them.

Not only had he listened to their pleadings for mercy; he had heard their arguments. Stephen's masterful oration before the Sanhedrin must have left an indelible impression on his mind. Many stories about the superior wisdom and miracles of the Saviour had reached him. The journey across the desert gave him time to think.

CONVERSION

Meanwhile, a prayer meeting was being held in the home of a Damascus believer by the name of Ananias. The little band of faithful souls, like lambs awaiting slaughter, had heard that the terrible persecutor was coming. Their fate appeared certain.

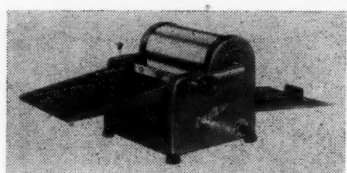

We view this sight in mind's eye and think of Luke 12:32. "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

Prayers offered in the home of Ananias no doubt contributed to the chain of supernatural events that took place outside the city walls. Suddenly at midday, like an atomic flash, a light appeared so bright that the sun was dimmed.

Paul emphatically states, in one of his narratives, that the incident occurred "about noon" and in another "at midday," when due to the brightness of the hour, no deception could be possible. We have the record in Acts 22:6 and 26:13. There was "a great light above the brightness of the sun," which was then shining in its full strength.

"And it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Damascus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?"

Though his name was soon changed to Paul, we find him, in both of his own narratives of the scene, after the lapse of many years, retaining the original form and not altering to the least degree the overpowering words spoken from heaven.

"Why persecutest thou me?" The Lord of glory was pleased to identify Himself with the humblest member on bended knee at the Damascus prayer meeting.

The dumfounded persecutor looked up from the ground where he had fallen, and asked: "Who art thou, Lord?" The risen Christ replied: "I am Jesus whom thou persecutest." Other men present heard the sound but did not see the Figure.

Henry Ward Beecher, preaching from this text, used two conversions to illuminate the record:

"Etienne de Grellet says he required a reason for everything from a child. God, however, chose His own way in his conversion. He was walking in the fields, under no kind of religious concern, when he was suddenly arrested by what seemed to be an awful voice, crying, 'Eternity! eternity! eternity!' It reached his very soul. His whole frame shook, and, like Saul, he fell to the ground. He cried out, 'If there is a God, doubtless there is a hell.' For long he seemed to hear the thundering proclamation, and was eventually led to decision.

"I knew a young woman who was brought to God very suddenly. She was busily engaged singing a profane song, when a flash of lightning seemed to pass through the room she occupied, illuminating the place with a sudden supernatural light; then followed a deep, loud roll of thunder, and the young woman, feeling as if in the presence of God, fell upon her knees, confessing her sins and crying for mercy. Sins which hitherto she had not felt to be sins, seemed to stand up and condemn her; she felt that there was no safety for her except through the blood of Jesus; and Christ, the merciful Saviour accepted her."

PAUL SAW THE LORD

The miracle on the road to Damascus produced an instant and complete transformation. Saul of Tarsus became Paul the apostle, the greatest missionary, evangelist and church organizer of all time.

Because of the brightness of the light in which he was enveloped, his eyes were temporarily blinded. Companions found it necessary to lead him into the city. Instead of a haughty, merciless persecutor riding through the streets in a chariot, there appeared a stricken, trembling, groping man, helped along by the hands of another.

He took no food or anything to drink for three days. Only one other space of three days' duration can be mentioned of equal importance in the history of the world.

We will never know the thoughts that surged through his mind or the emotions that burned in his heart during those three days of darkness. It is not a small thing for a man to be completely made over!

Supernatural power was also manifested inside the city walls, where Ananias learned of Paul's conversion by means of a vision. Imagine the astonishment of the "little flock" when word arrived that the persecutor had become a saved man. They must have found it difficult to believe their ears. The new convert started at once witnessing for Christ.

The one transcendent fact of this narrative is that Paul saw the Lord. Barnabas so stated in the words of our text. Paul so testified.

In his first letter to the Corinthians, the apostle gave what theologians regard as one of the most important listings of our Lord's postresurrection appearances.

He explained that, "Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures; And was buried and rose again the third day ... was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve: After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren ... After that, he was seen of James; then of all the apostles."

Finally in I Corinthians 15:8-9, he reaffirmed his own experience on the Damascus road:

"And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time. For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God."

WE HAVE SEEN THE LORD

There are ten Epiphanies, or postresurrection appearances of Christ, recorded in the New Testament. One of these relates to His presence with the disciples including Thomas.

The demonstration convinced the doubter and caused him to say: "My Lord and my God." Then we read: "Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed."

In these words we note that a special blessing is conferred upon those who are denied the privilege of seeing the divine Saviour by physical sight, but see Him through the eye of faith. This arrangement includes us. During the twentieth century we do not see God enshrined in a human body, as was the pleasure of disciples in the first century, but our relation with Him is no less real.

A writer of the past generation, commenting on these words, said: "Wonderful indeed, and rich in blessing for us who have not seen Him, is this closing word of the Gospel!"

But, I feel that we have, in a sense, seen Him. We open the inspired Scriptures and find a full sized portrait of the One Paul preached and adored. Every important detail of His earth life is to be found, prophetically stated, in the Old Testament. The record we find of His deeds and teachings in the New Testament confirms the fact that He lived the life of God on earth. We see Him in the pages of God's Word.

He is also seen through the eye of faith. Faith is the action that materializes the print from the negative. The picture is potential in the negative film, but has to be brought out. Christ Jesus is unseen to material eyes, but brings to us the realization of His presence.

We have also seen Him in personal experience. Paul speaks of "the things which God hath prepared" for us, and goes on to say that "God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit." Special attention should be drawn to the word "revealed" in this passage. It has pleased the Lord of glory to reveal Himself, in the consciousness of multitudes who bear His name. In this sense, we have seen the Lord.

—THAT'S KOREA

by CHAPLAIN BOYD W. DAVIS

Famine, hunger, malnutrition, disease and sickness follow in the wake of war in this "land of the morning calm." Yes, Korea is called such, but hearts and minds of the people are far from calm. One cannot stand by without disturbing thoughts as he sees the little children suffer so. Many little ones have never laughed or smiled for they know very little of happiness. All their life has been hardship, hunger and abuse.

You ask, "How can I help?"

First, make Korea a matter of prayer, asking God to help her spiritually, (for they suffer as much from spiritual malnutrition as physical). HE WILL REVEAL SOMETHING FOR YOU TO DO. Second, become doers of the Word. Here are a few of the physical needs.

CLOTHING. In Korea I saw many children wearing rags — their entire wardrobe. Some were running in the streets naked. Often they travel in packs like animals. They rest wherever sleep overtakes them, dropping down in an alley, doorway or on the sidewalk.

BLANKETS. I found a little fellow about six years old sleeping alone in a deserted shack, with just a piece of canvas for cover against the cold of winter. I couldn't help but feel guilty for being so warmly dressed when one of God's little ones was suffering so.

FOOD. Wherever you go in Korea you are approached by little children with their inevitable cans in hand, pleading for money for "chop-chop" (food). A soldier can do a little but he is limited.

In the name of our Lord, give blankets, clothes, food, school equipment and supplies, or give money with which to purchase these things NOW!

OBSTACLES CONSIDERED

DR. OSWALD J. SMITH
PASTOR PEOPLES CHURCH
TORONTO, CANADA

THERE is only one obstacle that can block up the channel and choke God's power, and that is SIN. It alone can hinder the work of the Spirit and prevent a Revival. "If I regard iniquity in my heart," declared David, "the Lord will not hear me" (Psalm 66:18). And in Isaiah 59:1-2, we have these significant words: "Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear: But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear."

Sin, then, is the great barrier, and it must be put away. Nor is there any alternative. There can be no compromise. God will not work as long as there is iniquity covered up.

In Hosea 10:12 we read, "Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you." And in II Chronicles 7:14 the promise of blessing is vouchsafed, based, however, upon unalterable conditions: "If my people, which are called by my name," declares the Lord, "shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." Hence, nothing short of a broken heart over sin, full confession and restitution, will satisfy God. Sin must be forsaken utterly.

God alone is able to bestow a contrite and broken heart, a sorrow that will result in the confession and forsaking of sin. And nothing short of that will suffice. "The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise" (Psalm 51:17). "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy" (Proverbs 28:13). "Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against the Lord thy God" (Jeremiah 3:13).

There are three kinds of confession that must be considered:

(a) Private Confession; for where the sin has been committed against God alone it need be confessed to no other but God (I John 1:9; Psalm 32:5).

(b) Personal Confession; for where the sin has been committed against another it must be confessed not only to God but also to the one who has been wronged. Nor will there be any peace until the confession has been made and forgiveness sought (Matthew 5:23,24).

(c) Public Confession; for where the sin has been committed against the church, that is to say, the entire congregation, a class, organization or company of people, the confession must be as public as the transgression.

As long as iniquity among the people of God is covered over and unconfessed, just so long will the Spirit of God be unable to bring about a Revival. Men must get right with each other in order to be right with God.

One night at the close of a searching message, a young man walked to the front, and, turning to the congregation, made the startling confession that he had stolen and used money that did not belong to him; after which he passed into the inquiry room to get right with God. He had been the treasurer of two important organizations and had squandered nearly all the funds entrusted to him. God blessed and saw him through. Let us uncover our sin first of all; let us make straight the crooked ways, let us gather out the stones, and then we may ask in faith and expectancy for showers of blessing.

Now let us take our sins one by one and deal with each transgression separately. And let us ask ourselves the following questions.

(1) Have we forgiven everyone? Is there any malice, spite, hatred or enmity in our hearts? Do we cherish grudges; and have we refused to be reconciled?

(2) Do we get angry? Are there any uprisings within? Is it true that we still lose our temper? Does wrath hold us at times in its grip?

(3) Is there any feeling of jealousy? When another is preferred before us, does it make us envious and uncomfortable? Do we get jealous of those who can pray, speak and do things better than we can?

(4) Do we get impatient and irritated? Do little things vex and annoy? Or are we sweet, calm and unruffled under all circumstances?

(5) Are we offended easily? When people fail to notice us and pass by without speaking, does it hurt? If others are made much of and we are neglected, how do we feel about it?

(6) Is there any pride in our hearts? Are we puffed up? Do we think a great deal of our own position and attainments?

(7) Have we been dishonest? Is our business open and above reproach? Do we give a yard for a yard and a pound for a pound?

(8) Have we been gossiping about people? Do we slander the character of others? Are we talebearers and busybodies?

(9) Do we criticize unlovingly, harshly, severely? Are we always finding fault and looking for the flaws in others?

(10) Do we rob God? Have we stolen time that belongs to Him? Has our money been withheld?

(11) Are we worldly? Do we love the glitter, the pomp, and the show of this life?

(12) Have we stolen? Do we take little things that do not belong to us?

(13) Do we harbour a spirit of bitterness towards others? Is there hatred in our hearts?

(14) Are our lives filled with lightness and frivolity? Is our conduct unseemly? Would the world by our actions consider us on its side?

(15) Have we wronged any one and failed to make restitution? Or, has the spirit of Zacchaeus possessed us? Have we restored the many little things that God has shown us?

(16) Are we worried or anxious? Do we fail to trust God for our temporal and spiritual needs? Are we continually crossing bridges before we come to them?

(17) Are we guilty of lustful thoughts? Do we allow our minds to harbour impure and unholy imaginations?

(18) Are we true in our statements, or do we exaggerate and thus convey false impressions? Have we lied?

(19) Are we guilty of the sin of unbelief? In spite of all He has done for us, do we still refuse to believe the promises of His Word?

(20) Have we committed the sin of prayerlessness? Are we intercessors? Do we pray? How much time are we spending on our knees? Have we crowded prayer out of our lives?

(21) Are we neglecting God's Word? How many chapters do we read each day? Are we Bible students? Do we draw our source of supply from the Scriptures?

(22) Have we failed to confess Christ openly? Are we ashamed of Jesus? Do we keep our mouths closed when we are surrounded by worldly people? Are we witnessing daily?

(23) Are we burdened for the salvation of souls? Have we a love for the lost? Is there any compassion in our hearts for those who are perishing?

These are the things, both negative and positive, that prevent the work of God in the midst of His people. Let us be honest and call them by their right name. "SIN" is the word that God uses. And the sooner we admit that we have sinned and are ready to confess and forsake it, the sooner may we expect God to hear us and work in mighty power. Why deceive ourselves? We cannot deceive God.

This has been the history of revival work all down the centuries. Night after night sermons have been preached and no results obtained, until some elder or deacon bursts out in an agony of confession, and, going to the one whom he has wronged, craves forgiveness. Or some woman who is a prominent worker breaks down and in tears confesses publicly that she has been gossiping about some other sister or is not on speaking terms with the person across the aisle.

Then when confession and restitution have been made, the fallow ground broken up, sin uncovered and acknowledged, then and not until then, the Spirit of God comes upon the audience and a Revival sweeps over the community.

Oh then, let us plead first of all the prayer of David when he cried, "Search me, oh God, and see if there be any wicked way in me." And no sooner will the obstacle of sin be taken out of the way than God will come in mighty revival power.

RACIAL SEGREGATION

A review of "Regnum Montis" ... a new book by Dr. Joseph W. Holley, president emeritus of Albany State College, Albany, Georgia.

DR. JOSEPH W. HOLLEY, regarded in college and university circles as America's foremost Negro educator, has written a new book entitled, "Regnum Montis" — a term associated with the second chapter of Isaiah, alluding to a future age of peace and prosperity.

Said the prophet: "The nations shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Dr. Holley believes the inauguration of the long desired Golden Age to be near at hand, and presents a trend of prophetic Scripture to support his position. Chapter four, dealing with the "Signs of the End," is particularly convincing.

The theory of Christ's Kingdom developing gradually, is rejected. The event will be sudden and cataclysmic, like the crashing of the Stone against the feet of Daniel's Image. (Daniel 2:34)

Dr. Holley founded the school from which Albany State College developed, now a unit in the University System of Georgia. He is president emeritus of the institution and an active leader in the Presbyterian circles of the South. His friend, Dr. Clarence E. McCartney, former moderator of the Presbyterian

General Assembly, has written a review of "Regnum Montis" in which he says:

"How will that end come? Some say by natural and inevitable evolution and development. The ape and the tiger will at length die out of man's nature, and the whole earth will be filled with the knowledge and the glory of the Lord. Two terrible world wars in quick succession, and an uncertain truce in what was really a great war — the war in Korea — have demolished this idea of inevitable and absolutely certain progress.

"Man builds up with one hand and tears down with the other. Undoubtedly, there will be wonderful progress in all lines of human endeavor. But will progress ever stop man from sinning? Will science ever stop hearts from breaking? Will knowledge ever stop men from dying? To ask these questions is to answer them.

"But others tell us that the blessed goal of human history will be reached, not through any law of natural progress, but by expansion of the Christian Church and great effusions of the Holy Spirit. One day with God is as a thousand years. Give God time!

"Certainly, no one would dare to put a limit to the influence and work of the Holy Spirit. But are we sure that that is God's plan for the world? How does such a conception harmonize with the question of Jesus, 'When the Son of Man cometh, will he find faith in the earth?' How can it be reconciled with Christ's brief but profound parable of the wheat and the tares, which, He said, are 'to grow together until the harvest'?

"No, the great and blessed end will not come by natural progress nor by the expansion of the influence of the Christian Church. It will come, as Dr. Holley makes clear from the Scriptures, by the coming of Christ Himself; by another and final intervention of God in the jurisprudence of this world."

WHILE anticipating supernatural intervention in human affairs, Dr. Holley observes certain stern realities that demand the application of Scriptural principles in the painful present.

Among the problems, with which he comes to grips, is that of Communist infiltration. This is to him a matter of special concern, because of the sly and subtle schemes of red propaganda, to betray Negroes of the South. The Orangeburg, South Carolina Times & Democrat said in a recent editorial: "The Southern Negro had better listen carefully to men like Dr. Holley."

Under the chapter heading, "Challenge to the South," Dr. Holley says:

"Communism as such is not in itself dangerous; the real danger lies in the Communists' infiltration. They worm themselves into the industrial, agricultural, economic, social, governmental, and even religious institutions of the country, get themselves elected to positions of trust, and then the deadly work is done.

"It is in the Communist-front organizations, and among the fellow travelers that the danger lies. Out in the open, and of themselves, the Commies can do little or no harm; but with the respectability and standing these organizations and individuals give them, they can infiltrate into the best society."

He quotes the following from an Atlanta newspaper and lodges an immediate protest:

"John W. Clark, trustee of the University of North Carolina, has this to say, 'The Rosenwald Foundation, working through the National Council of Churches, the C.I.O., and the N.A.A.C.P., is heading a drive to do away with separate schools, colleges, churches, and hospitals for the races in the South.'"

Dr. Holley asks: "I really wonder if the leaders in our churches know how closely they are following the Communist line?"

THERE are flickers of gentle humor in these pages, as noted in the following treatment given a group of Communist slickers from the North.

"At the opening of the First World War, there came to our campus three well-dressed men in a large Cadillac," says Dr. Holley. "I was in the pine grove near the river bank, where I had been squirrel hunting. They found it convenient to drive into the grove and face me in the middle of a group of trees. After leaning my gun against one of the trees, I walked up to the car and said, 'Gentlemen, what can I do for you?'"

"Well, they laid out one of the nicest Communist lines imaginable. They told me, among other things, that their organization in New York was determined to break up lynching, Jim Crowism, and every other form of evil done to the Negroes by the whites in the South. They insisted that the Negroes of the South had never been free; that only the name by which their bondage went was changed, but as to freedom — they have never had that. Their comrades in New York had been informed that I was one of the best educated Negroes in the country and that I would be of the greatest help to them in building up the party in the South.

"After some thirty minutes of quietly receiving their line of propaganda, I declared, 'I have had enough! I am going to give you three minutes to get off this campus!' Running back to where I had leaned my gun against a tree, I picked it up, and you should have seen them scuffling and backing the car away. When they reached the highway, they picked up speed and were soon out of sight."

UNLIKE propaganda agencies working to inflame Negro passions and generate racial hatreds in the South, Dr. Holley believes that segregation is best for all races. The Bible is taken as the highest source of authority on the subject.

He writes about the Great Deluge and finds that all races stemmed from three sources — Noah's sons, Shem, Ham and Japheth.

"If we were to follow the lineage of these three brothers, we could compile a list of all the peoples of the earth," says Dr. Holley. But since the Negro race is believed to have descended from Ham, this line holds his primary interest in the present book. Ham's sons are named in the tenth chapter of Genesis as Cush, Mizraim, Phut and Canaan.

"Cush settled in the country currently known as the kingdom of Abyssinia and often referred to by its historical name, Ethiopia. The Ethiopians are his descendants. Mizraim settled in the land of the lower Nile; from him, descended the Egyptians. For the purpose of this book, we could stop with Mizraim, but a few words about Phut and Canaan are of interest. Phut settled in the north of Africa, and his children became the ancient Libyans. Canaan settled on the eastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea."

Dr. Holley writes eloquently about the ancient Egyptians. The average reader will be surprised to learn of the knowledge they possessed, unequalled in some respects, by the achievements of modern science.

Egyptian Hamites isolated less dark Shemites to an area called Goshen. Joseph was an exception. Dr. Holley imagines him telling Jacob: "Yes, father, I'm governor. They have made an exception of me. But they have certain customs to which you and my brothers will have to adjust to."

RACIAL SEGREGATION is recorded throughout Scriptures and often commanded. Dr. Holley cites a chain of instances.

When conducting Temple worship, the Hebrews of Old Testament times compelled non-Hebrews to remain in an outer court.

"The Gentiles never complained about this arrangement; they accepted it as a matter of course. Our Lord encountered this separation in His ministry; He paid little or no attention to it, however, as it was not basically concerned with His mission in the world. ...

"Throughout His entire ministry the one consuming passion of His life was to save man from his sins and fit him for membership in the Regnum Montis which is soon to be set up."

Jews today adhere rigidly to the rules of segregation for themselves, rejecting intermarriage, imposing Talmudic rules designed to make themselves a separate community, but at the same time carry on persistent propaganda to deny others the right of individuality. International Jewry provides the motivation for present talk and action against segregation.

Dr. Holley meditates upon the dignity of his race. He is proud to be a Negro and wishes to help build culture and character, where these may be lacking, so that on the basis of achievement, his people will of their own accord command honor and respect. Mutual respect cannot be produced by compulsion.

We read: "In the southern states there are special conditions of comparative numbers of Negroes and whites, and inbred psychological attitudes and customs, that constitute as deep-seated a problem as the tangled situations in Ireland, Palestine, and India. Tact and time are necessary parts of the cure.

"You cannot legislate tolerance. The state cannot, neither can the federal government. It must grow from a seed planted in the heart. It seems to me that many of those who now favor drastic legislation against the southern states are the same individuals who, fifteen years ago, when the repeal of the prohibition amendment was being sought, declared the impossibility of legislating temperance.

"Federal laws to enforce nonsegregation would react disastrously if they aroused resentment against the Negro and if they resulted in friction between the whites of the South and their white kinsmen of the North. Nothing would please the Communist more than to have the federal government in bitter disagreement with the South over this issue, to have the Negroes and the whites in this country, and especially in the South, at loggerheads.

"There are explosive possibilities here which would benefit any who are interested in our confusion and final destruction.

"I suppose the Committee on Civil Rights wishes to be a friend to my race, but this does not lessen the danger of much that is recommended. Their report, if followed, would do great harm to the Negroes as well as to the whites."

The Gospel of Christ should be taken as common denominator by all races. It offers a rational basis for solving problems which inevitably arise in the sensitive area of racial relations.

"The mission of the Gospel was to make a better Roman, a better Greek, a better Jew, a better man of whatever race," says Dr. Holley. "Even the African, who rose to high and honorable places in the early church, achieved his greatness as an African. There were three Africans who rose to highest positions in the early church.

"St. Athanasius, who wrote the Athanasian Creed, and St. Augustine, whose writings have been a mainstay of the church for fifteen hundred years, as well as many others, were known by all to be Coptic Africans."

DR. HOLLEY prefers the word "Separation" to "Segregation," due in part to the odium placed upon the latter term by Communist outfits.

Many complicated and knotty problems face our Country in the present world crisis, and Christians have a responsibility to assist in their solution. But at best there will be disappointments in the end result. Only Regnum Montis offers real hope.

Dr. Holley's treatise is primarily prophetic. The thought of Christ's future is the thread that binds.

Let it be frankly noted that the title, "RACIAL SEGREGATION," was chosen for this review-story to catch the eye of the reader, because it represents a subject on which straight thinking is needed at the present time. And Dr. Holley takes a position, that the views which he and others hold on segregation are never given by press, television and radio ... or in the courts, even the United States Supreme Court.

His book deserves wide reading. While no review can do justice to such a magnificent piece of writing, it is hoped that the effort will serve a useful purpose. The Book is packaged in durable cloth covers and a jacket of exceptional beauty. The type is large and readable. Nothing has been spared to keep the physical construction of the book on a level with its contents.

KAMP'S INTELLIGENCE REPORT

AS THIS Defender goes to press, certain newspapers reaching into every part of the Nation are carrying wild, inflammatory attacks under box-car headlines, against Christian and patriotic leaders well known for their opposition to Communism.

This kind of propaganda is less effective now than in the past because millions of straight thinking Americans understand its true source and motivation. The present attack differs from others in the respect that it is more violent, releases a greater number of falsehoods and has larger geographical coverage than those of the past. It reflects careful planning and an enormously large financial expenditure.

The purpose is to soften the public mind for even harder blows to follow. The blasts surpass those which preceded the war-time 'Sedition Case, engineered by Communists and Jews who used the legal branch of the New Deal administration as a cloak for their dagger.

Individuals and organizations responsible for the present prostitution of the press, operating with henchmen at international levels, have succeeded in destroying the political, economic, moral and religious balance of the civilized world. Their conspiracies have produced ed two world wars, the rise of revolutionary movements, and other dislocations.

These people do not wish to be disturbed. Their crimes reach to every American fireside. They know how to cover their tracks and keep the public in the dark. It happens, however, that a group of religious and patriotic leaders (now being smeared and persecuted) are standing in their way.

One man in the United States is better prepared than all others, to turn up the underneath side of the conspiracy — Joseph P. Kamp, master investigator, of New York City.

How Mr. Kamp came to know, several weeks ago, that anti-Christ sources were preparing the present attack, remains a mystery. But he knew what was coming and released from his New York office a 30,000-word Intelligence Report on their activities, simultaneously with the big smear appearing in newspapers.

Every true American who learns about the Kamp document through reading The Defender or otherwise, has a solemn responsibility to circulate copies in their respective communities with all possible haste. Time is of the essence!

MR. KAMP starts out by naming the man, the hidden mastermind, who lays down the line for "editors, columnists and commentators" to follow.

The secret power of this man is so great that no one receiving his "bulletin" dares antagonize him. His name is a terror around newspaper offices, radio and television stations. David Karr, former manager of Drew Pearson's Washington headquarters and writer for the Communist Daily Worker, is a member of his staff.

A few of the many publications, whose editors jump when this man cracks his whip, are listed. Harvey Matusow, a smart-alecky, self-confessed Communist liar who has figured prominently in recent Congressional investigations, is another of his puppets. The sinister force he manipulates is so strong that even Washington officials do not dare resist it.

Readers of Mr. Kamp's Report will be astonished at the array of facts, heretofore unpublished, upon which the following statement is based:

"All this means that there is a frightening Communist-aiding influence operating in our nation's capital, and everywhere else throughout our country, that is more powerful than the Government of the United States."

The hidden hand responsible for perversion of the press and the persecution of patriots is, "The Anti-Defamation League, a subsidiary of B'nai B'rith, a prominent international Jewish fraternal organization ... an adjunct of the Soviet spy ring."

Mr. Kamp continues: "Pro-Communist professionals have been in control of the Anti-Defamation League for many years. It has sponsored Communist-line speakers, and its spy and smear network has continually harassed and persecuted anti-Communists, while (of late) maintaining a phony pose of 'anti-Communism'."

WITH THIS groundwork laid, Mr. Kamp takes his readers down through dark caverns of the Semitic underworld where crimes against humanity are hatched. Surface manifestations, like the present smear campaign of Christian patriots, are shown to result from subterranean intrigue.

Only an experienced investigator, possessing an uncanny capacity for discernment, could come up with the amazing disclosures spread in the pages of this Report. Mr. Kamp must have valuable contacts on the inside!

The fantastic story of how the Anti-Defamation League took over Congressman Velde, chairman of the House Committee On Un-American Activities last year, will seem incredible to persons unfamiliar with Jewish methods.

Finally, the Washington representative of the ADL was able to send a memorandum to his superior officer (a former collaborator with the Golos-Bentley Soviet spy ring) which said in part:

"Velde agreed that in the future, Committee investigators would be sent to ADL and AJC for material on prospective witnesses. We told him to try our way and if the newspapers persisted in writing bad stories about the Velde Committee that a delegation from the Anti-Defamation League and the American Jewish Committee would call on them for an accounting."

Mr. Kamp quotes the ADL's representative as concluding the secret memorandum by saying that as early as his first visit, he was "heartened by the understandings achieved" ... and later became so chummy with Velde that the Congressman was calling him by his first name.

A confidential report to ADL members had previously stated that it was the job of its representative at the Capital "to educate Congress on pertinent issues." He seemed to have little difficulty educating Velde!

Out of this education came the vicious, untruthful smear released by the Committee On Un-American Activities just before Velde retired as chairman. Mr. Kamp labels it "a fraud and a hoax."

He shows that the so-called "report" was prepared under the direction of Robert L. Kunzig, a Committee staff member approved by the ADL. The following is summarized from the Kamp document:

"Most of the malicious misinformation which formed the basis of the report was foisted on the Velde Committee by the Anti-Defamation League ...

"When the Velde Committee declared in its report that — 'Those who would support the extreme right today do as great violence to our Democratic institutions as those on the extreme left ...' it made a ten-strike for the Communist cause.

"Every member of the Velde Committee every member of Congress, and every alert American knows that every opponent of Communism, every conservative and most Republicans are looked upon as incorrigible 'Rightists' ...

"By such unwarranted and unjust implications, the Velde Committee report has played right into the hands of the Communists by giving validity to their false charges of a similar character ...

"Unless its broad and loose insinuations are corrected or repudiated, the Velde Committee report will seriously reflect on, could easily discredit, and may even destroy much effective opposition to Communism by many thousands of sincere, conscientious and patriotic anti-Communists.

"The truth is that few members of the Committee knew anything about the report until after it was in type, and since there were no hearings, none of them got a look at the so-called 'evidence' upon which its broad implications were based. Two members are reported to have said that they had never seen the report. Two members refused to approve it ...

"Plainly nettled, the incoming Chairman, Representative Francis E. Walter, felt obliged to disassociate himself from responsibility. He denounced the whole procedure to the press. He charged that the Committee had held no hearings relating to the report and had not even discussed the subject in executive session. He said he had not seen the report."

The so-called "report," bearing Velde's name, is being taken as the basis of demands by the Jewish Gestapo for another Sedition Case. Mr. Kamp's disclosures may, however, bring their scheme to a dead end.

WHEN Mr. Velde reads the Kamp document, he will learn to what extent the Jews have taken advantage of him. Being a former FBI agent, his constituents back in Illinois are probably shocked to find him so naive.

Those who wrote the "report" released over his name, had a great deal to say about an alleged "Renaissance Party," picturing it as something terrible, a threat "whose activities would destroy the very foundation work of the American Republic." Mr. Kamp shows this to be a laugh!

He says: "If the Velde Committee had done its own investigating, instead of depending on the ADL-AJC spy network for its information, it would not have been caught out on a limb. Its investigators would have discovered very quickly that there is no 'neo-Fascist' menace, and that the National Renaissance Party was non-existent."

On the day after Mr. Velde released his "report" describing the terrors of the Renaissance Party, the New York Times declared: "Reporters could find no trace of the party at the city address given. At Beacon, New York, Police Chief James B. Dingee said Mr. James H. Madole boasted that he headed the organization. However, FBI agents working in and around the area uncovered no evidence to substantiate his claims."

"But now the damage is done," says Mr. Kamp. "The American people have been given the false and mistaken impression that there is a 'fascist menace' to worry about, and the Anti-Defamation League, and the American Jewish Committee will exploit this circumstance by continuing to brand the targets of their hate propaganda with the 'fascist' label."

Mr. Velde was quoted in the "report" as demanding immediate prosecution of Renaissance Party leaders for violation of the Smith Act. The only trouble was, there were no leaders!

Had the Velde group actually made an investigation, they would have discovered that the "avowedly fascist organization" was founded in 1947, not 1949 as stated in the "report." It was started as the Animist Party by James H. Madole of Beacon, New York, a twenty-year-old sickly and lonesome high school graduate, with time on his hands, who wanted to widen his acquaintanceship by correspondence. Previously, he had tried unsuccessfully to organize a letter-writing club.

At its inception the Animist Party consisted only of Madole and his letterhead. After a few months he recruited one member. In all probability, the Animist Party would soon have died a natural death, but at this point Madole got a letter from one Vladimir Stepankowsky, who expressed great interest and invited him to New York for a conference.

Stepankowsky had ideas, and Madole was impressed. A short time thereafter, the Animist Party began to hold regular "meetings" in the lobby of Stepankowsky's shabby dollar-a-night hotel on West 46th Street in New York, and Animist Party literature, prepared by Stepankowsky, and liberally sprinkled with anti-Semitism, was being sent throughout the country. By this time the "Party" had a half dozen members, including Gordon Hall and Charles R. Allen, Jr.

This represented the peak of its strength. Stepankowsky was at the time, in the pay of both the Anti-Defamation League and Golos-Bentley Soviet spy ring — apparently unknown to the youthful Madole. Hall and Allen were also stooges for the ADL.

They changed the word "Animist" to "Renaissance" and used it as a letterhead organization for pouring Nazi and Fascist literature into the mails. L. M. Birkhead, Ralph Lord Roy and other leftists around New York joined in the scheme by attending "Party meetings."

The ADL stooges and Communist leaders who were taking Madole "for a ride" even dressed a few boys in Nazi uniforms, including swastikas, to frighten wealthy Jews into contributing money to fight the "fascist menace." Mr. Kamp includes a photograph of a young man thus garbed, and publishes his name.

He also gives Stepankowsky's Communist spy record on both sides of the Atlantic ... together with his record as a representative of the Anti-Defamation League since coming to the United States in 1936.

In 1952 the New York Police Department, in response to an inquiry from Chicago about the National Renaissance Party, answered that, "The organization in question, which had few followers, has been inactive insofar as this City is concerned, since 1949."

In other words, the Anti-Defamation League created a microscopic outfit called the Renaissance Party. Although "inactive" since 1949, words were put into Mr. Velde's mouth that "1953 was its most active year."

The Congressman now stands discredited before the voters of his district back home and the American people as a whole (while Jewish "friends" have a good laugh at his expense).

And, as this review of the Kamp Intelligence Report is written, the same fabrication is being circulated coast-to-coast under blazing headlines, as part of a conspiracy to smear opponents of Communism as "fascists."

Mr. Kamp drops the following pertinent quotation from J. Edgar Hoover into his Report:

"It is an established fact that whenever one has dared to expose the Communist threat he has invited upon himself the adroit and skilled talents of experts of character assassinations. Any one who opposes the American Communist is at once branded as a 'disrupter,' a 'Fascist,' a 'Red-baiter,' or a 'Hitlerite' ... This is easily understood because the basic tactics of the Communist Party are deceit and trickery."

know about is around $10,000,000. Many of them live like kings. Their ranks are growing. Reliable medical investigators believe they are responsible for many needless deaths each year."

"Many of them." Who are they? Where are they? What are their names and addresses? Name, say, a half dozen. The truth is, Dr. Cameron is building up a straw man to knock down.

His quacks are supposed to be getting fabulously rich. He could not have been referring to Dr. Hoxsey for the reason that the Dallas Clinic operates at a financial loss.

Dr. Hoxsey has the best equipment that money can buy for diagnostic and treating purposes. He maintains as efficient a staff of doctors, nurses and technicians as money can hire.

The Hoxsey Cancer Clinic is one of the great medical centers of the world. And it goes behind financially every year. It pays out more than it takes in. Dr. Hoxsey has to put personal money, produced in other ways, into its operation to keep the doors open.

I accuse Dr. Cameron and his straw man of leaving a false impression with the reading public. I also accuse him of failing to tell the whole truth by omitting the statistics that the average cancer victim, treated by the methods he approves, pays over six thousand dollars in a futile attempt to get well.

WHO ARE THE REAL QUACKS?

Before taking too seriously Dr. Cameron's charge about quacks getting rich, I suggest we remind ourselves that the average cancer patient treated by surgery, X-ray and radium spends six thousand dollars before he dies.

And, according to Senator John J. Haluska of Pennsylvania, "They know in their hearts that they have never yet cured a single case of cancer by the so-called approved methods. I will debate this question sincerely with any person, any pathologist, with any doctor."

I leave it with you to decide who are the real quacks. Throughout his article Dr. Cameron accuses others of the very thing his own groups are doing.

Never a day passes but what we receive a large volume of mail dealing with the fight on cancer. Many of the letters are encouraging. Some are heart breaking. I often receive letters lamenting the fact that the writers did not hear of the Hoxsey system in time to save the lives of friends and loved ones.

Such a letter is before me, from a man in Minnesota, and with your permission I will interrupt myself to read it.

"Dear Dr. Winrod: I am waiting to hear you expose the real cancer quacks who are destroying human lives in this Country. We are reading these days about quacks but I have had dealings with a real set of quacks. They took my wife, examined her, operated on her, then started burning her with deep X-ray and radium. She got worse all the time and we had to stand by and see them torture her through a thousand deaths.

"Her poor body became like a burning hell, her flesh seared and its life destroyed. God alone knows what our family has passed through. I am now led to believe that they never expected the operations and the burning to cure her. I paid out over eight thousand dollars trying to save her life. I have my own opinion as to who the quacks really are. There ought to be a law to save people from what we have passed through."

I have just finished reading a portion of a letter received from a man who started listening to Defender Hour broadcasts too late. Had he learned about the Hoxsey treatment sooner, his wife would probably be living today.

SAME OLD STUFF

I said in the beginning that Dr. Cameron's article was the same old stuff. This is true. It contained nothing that Morris Fishbein has not said over and over again, with this difference:

Whereas Fishbein used to call out names, Dr. Cameron is more cautious. He uses no names, dates or places. This was no doubt a wise decision on his part. Fishbein has been a defendant in libel suits in which he came out the loser.

Except for the difference just noted, Dr. Cameron's article follows exactly the same line as one published by Fishbein a few years ago entitled, "Medical Hucksters." It was also put out as a Sunday supplement, by the Hearst chain of newspapers.

Dr. Hoxsey was libeled. He sued the Hearst organization and won. Morris Fishbein was their principal witness. Then he sued Fishbein and won. Since then men like Dr. Cameron have been careful about dragging the name Hoxsey through the dirt. They make inferences, but avoid plain statements.

One method is to refer to "a certain coal miner" who professes to have a cancer cure. They can make a reference of that kind without exposing themselves to libel action.

Sure Dr. Hoxsey worked in a coal mine forty years ago as a boy. So what? The boy Jesus worked in a carpenter shop. Honest toil is no disgrace.

But I never have been able to under-

PROFESSIONAL SECRETS FOR DOCTORS AND LAYMEN

"Professional Secrets for Doctors and Laymen" is the title of a new book by Dr. Emerson B. Hartman of San Bernardino, California, well known leader in the field of Bacteriological Cancer Research. Price $5.00 but the book will prove worth five hundred times that amount to the average reader.

Among other things, it goes to the CAUSE of cancer and proves that present handling of the disease is worse than witch-burning, that the use of radium and X-ray is torturous quackery.

Possessing the knowledge this book contains, a mere housewife can better cope with cancer, than a learned specialist without it. Profoundly scientific, but couched in language everyone can understand. Proves that Dr. Harry M. Hoxsey got on the right track many years ago in destroying the seat of cancer in the human anatomy. Shows that other systems of treatment also have merit.

Dr. Hartman boldly claims to have photographed cancer germs in blood, "with his own camera through his own microscope." An amazing medical achievement! Page 18 of the book contains one of the pictures.

stand the connection between the boy Hoxsey working in a coal mine in southern Illinois and the man Hoxsey curing cancer by the use of a treatment that has existed in the Hoxsey household for three generations. The father of the present Dr. Hoxsey cured my grandmother of a cancer 43 years ago.

I sat one evening a while back and listened to a broadcast made from Washington, D.C., which left an impression with the audience that Harry Hoxsey had worked in a coal mine all his life. I thought, to what extremes the opposition is willing to go to protect its business and keep a bona fide cure for cancer from reaching the American people!

Before leaving this subject, let me say that when advance announcements were made of the Cameron article, Dr. Hoxsey's attorneys were alerted. They were ready and waiting. Had Dr. Cameron launched the kind of smear attack that his predecessor, Fishbein, had published, using Dr. Hoxsey's name, he would have found himself a defendant in a libel suit within a matter of hours.

GUTTER ATTACKS DEPLORED

We admit that circumstances have placed Dr. Hoxsey in the center of a controversy. We know there is a great deal of pro and con discussion. We have confidence that truth will eventually triumph. The public has a right to all the facts. We want to see the debate conducted in decent language and on a high level.

The Defender Hour has tried to present the facts, as we know the facts, in a constructive way, avoiding personalities and displays of temper. We know when the people are given the truth they will make the right decision.

Some of us were therefore sorry to observe the level on which Dr. Cameron conducted his discussion. It lacked ethics, was bitter and insulting and, taken as a whole, must be regarded as a cheap smear. I do not feel that it makes a contribution to the question at hand which is this: Can cancer be cured; is cancer being cured?

While other groups are putting on high powered publicity campaigns, raising millions of dollars, paying fabulous salaries to executives, expressing the hope of finding a cure for can-

Hoxsey Cancer Clinic ... Dallas, Texas

"When I was down in Texas, at Dr. Hoxsey's Clinic, I thought I was at a county fair because one cannot get near the place. Planes from Brazil, Germany, Australia, and from all over the Nation are flown here. One day we counted thirty-seven license plates from different States. People were lined up on the porch and out on the lawn." —Excerpt from Senator John J. Haluska's celebrated speech before the Pennsylvania State Senate ... February 7, 1955.

cer within ten years, the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic is curing the dread disease now. I would not dare make such a statement without proof. I have the proof.

Hospital records, clinical findings, biopsy reports, sworn statements, pathological reports, complete documentation, confirm the fact that cancer is being cured by the Hoxsey system of treatment. No cutting. No burning. No suffering. Just medicine — medicine working through the blood stream in a way that changes the body chemistry and produces a state of natural immunity.

The Cameron group assumes an attitude of superiority which must be rather revolting to the average person. Anyone who dares do some original thinking and acting on the subject of cancer is supposed to be ignorant and inferior. They wish to convey the idea that they are sole repositories of wisdom.

When I observe their arrogance. When I see them assuming a superior attitude. When I find them looking down with a contempt upon those who may not have come from their particular educational assembly line. When I hear of them parading themselves as the intelligentsia and degrading others as ignorant and debased.

Then I open the Book to I Corinthians 1:27 and read: "But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty."

suffering and too many lives at stake in this one.

Dr. Hoxsey's persecution is not unique. Others have passed the same way. I could call the roll. Harvey, Lister, Pasteur, Semmelweis and others. Abused, tortured, ostracized, humiliated, spat upon for getting out of the beaten paths, for giving new medical knowledge to the world in their generation, then glorified in the next.

But, as I say, Dr. Hoxsey must catch up with his laurels. This time we cannot wait. There is too much at stake. Too many people are dying. One out of every four or five Americans have cancers gnawing at their flesh now.

If the medical fraternity waits until the next generation to give Dr. Hoxsey the recognition he deserves, it will be too late. The public had better take things into its own hands.

Fortify yourself with the facts. Talk them wherever you go. Keep a supply of Hoxsey literature in your home. Have it ready for quick distribution. Cancer is an underworld character. a gangster, a killer. It may strike anywhere, any time. Be ready.

Listen, please, to a sentence from a letter I received from a doctor in Pennsylvania, a former member of Congress. His name is Dr. Ira Walton Drew of Philadelphia. He says: "What medical authorities have overlooked is the fact that the public has now taken the Hoxsey method in its own hands and the more persecution and prosecution the better it will be for the treatment."

It will interest you to know, if you do not know, that a committee of ten doctors, all M.D.'s, every one a cancer specialist, recently went to Dallas, studied the methods used, observed the results, prepared a report and placed their signatures to the document attesting the therapeutic value of the Hoxsey treatment.

These doctors are saying in substance: "Leave the good man alone. He is doing more than anyone else in the world to conquer the cancer scourge."

The methods that you are being asked to support these days, in high powered publicity campaigns, have proven utterly futile. They simply do not cure cancer and no honest person claims that they do.

It often happens that the victim would suffer less and die easier if nature was allowed to take its course. Surgery and burning add to the pain and cost of the ordeal. In the language of Senator Haluska, "The carnage must be stopped."

DR. HOXSEY'S CHALLENGE

An attack comparable to that by Dr. Cameron appeared in a recent issue of Time magazine. We observe from correspondence reaching us that some of its readers are not too happy over what happened. For instance, here is a copy of a letter from Mr. C. P. Halvorson of Minneapolis, Minnesota to the editors of Time:

"Gentlemen: I return herewith your subscription blank because, having read Dr. Hoxsey's letter to you, which you refuse to publish, it seems to me you have gone out of your way to actually misrepresent the wonderful cures of cancer by the Hoxsey treatment.

"It seems a shame that a magazine like Time would do such a thing ... So kindly be advised that I for one do not care to see your magazine again because it smears and belittles, yes, I believe publishes falsehoods about an institution that is doing a great deal of good for humanity."

I wish to read another letter which also has its origin in Minneapolis, although actually written from Sacramento, California by Mr. S. A. Twitchell, president of the Cali Products Company:

"Dear Dr. Winrod: Last December my sister-in-law, Mrs. Eva Mertens, was sent home to die from a Minneapolis hospital with cancer of the ovaries, uterus and rectum. I immediately heard about it and, at my own expense, sent her to the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Dallas. The Minneapolis doctors had said she could not live more than three weeks or five at the most. Death was sure to come within that time, they said. Today she is feeling fine and gaining weight, from a mere 62 pounds to over 80 now.

"The doctors who gave her up to die now say that they may not have diagnosed her case correctly. They also insist, however, that she is still sure to die soon. I don't believe it. She will probably live 25 years longer and die from old age."

Dr. Hoxsey is so sure of his ground that he has posted the following challenge:

"I challenge the federal government, the county and state governments, the American Medical Association, or any recognized group to come to the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic, and if I fail to prove we have cured the most deadly types of cancer after radium, X-ray and surgery have failed, I will donate $25,000 to any charitable organization and close the doors of the Clinic forever."

GOLIATH WILL TOPPLE

It is true that the opposition resembles a Goliath, possessing great power, unlimited financial resources, exercising control over avenues of public information, deceiving masses of people into believing that when cancer strikes, there is no hope. But as David toppled the giant with a few pebbles, so will truth ultimately triumph in the fight against cancer.

All over the world people are learning that cancer is being cured by the Hoxsey method. Public opinion is reaching tidal wave proportions which no amount of falsehood, villification, smearing and persecution in the courts and otherwise will be able to resist. Let Christians everywhere make these matters a subject of prayer.

This is Gerald B. Winrod, thanking you for listening and saying ... May God bless you all.

"The Greatest Joy In Living Is The Joy We Get From Giving"

Are you sick, old, need a hobby? Why not do Christian work, mailing out Gospel tracts and win souls for the Master. God will bless you.

I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ. Are you? Jesus Christ is the source of freedom of mind, body and above all the soul of man. Our interests should revolve around Him and the Bible.

Plenty of money in this world and none needed in the next! Billions to spend for new schools, but it is said to be wrong to teach from the Bible in our schools! How stupid can man be?

HOW TO STOP JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6.

I have said it before, and will say it again . . . God's Holy Bible should be the first book in every school room. Teach the Gospel to our children and evils will vanish over night. Christ is the answer to all of our troubles.

"Do your givin' while you're livin'." Send it on ahead, then you'll be knowin' where it's goin'. Don't wait till you're dead."

Jesus said: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."

Strip for the race to heaven. Woe to them who have more than they need, but are holding it. In the name of the Lord, for your own soul's sake, for the Gospel's sake, for Jesus' sake, act Now. What can you do? Cut a page out of The Defender, also a page out of the Bible, put them in an envelope, address it to a friend and ask him to read every word, and then remail it to his friend. Invest God's 10 per cent tithe in sending out these letters. "Only one life, 'twill soon be past, only what's done for Christ will last."

Prayer is the most powerful weapon on earth. Try it. Pray each day. "Lord, I give Thee thanks for the blessings and abundance that are mine." If you want wisdom, read the Bible. And "as ye tithe so ye prosper."

REV. LOREN FRANK

SCHIRMER SYSTEM USED AT ATLANTA

Atlanta, Georgia
April 23, 1955

Dr. Gerald B. Winrod
Wichita, Kansas

Dear Sir and Brother:

The Schirmer program for the treatment and cure of ailments heretofore regarded as being incurable, is now operating in Atlanta on substantially the same lines as used for years, with such marked success, at Corning, Arkansas. We are proud of our new Clinic, located at 20 Eleventh Street N.E., Atlanta.

My duties, as Chaplain, are very much the same here as in Corning. Prayer plays a large part in the service rendered by this Schirmer institution, and much of my time is devoted to Bible reading and spiritual counsel among patients conscious of needs at these levels. I am enjoying my work immensely.

Our staff is made up almost entirely of members who served at Corning. Charles P. Copeland, M.D., chief of staff, has been for many years active in Church work. He is very competent and loved by the patients. Dr. H. M. Jenkins is also serving nobly in the fight to relieve suffering and save human lives.

A shadow has been cast across the program by the illness of dear Dr. Schirmer. False rumors have gone out about his condition which need to be corrected. The fact is, that he has been for years an overworked man. We have at last learned that his constitution is not made of iron. I wish to solicit special prayer for him.

While serving in the armed forces during World War One, Dr. Schirmer was seriously injured. This handicap, long hours, and severe persecution have worn him down. Contrary to reports maliciously planted in the public mind, he has none of the ailments treated at our Clinic. He is making progress and feeling better.

While we do not have hospital facilities here, like at Corning, yet patients coming from distances are able to arrange satisfactory living conditions in the part of the city where the Clinic is located. The Lincoln Bacteriophage continues to be administered with results often bordering upon the miraculous. Krebiozen is also available for those needing it.

It is a wonderful experience, when victims of terrible ailments are brought here, to see them return to their homes repaired and well, after a few days or weeks. This is a service which surely brings glory to our Lord.

I have been owing you a letter for some time but pressure of duties has put me behind with correspondence. Dr. Schirmer asks to be remembered.

Yours in Christian Service
Loren Frank

Dr. Gerald B. Winrod

Dear Doctor Winrod:

I reported to the Research Clinic at Atlanta, Georgia on January 28, 1955 suffering with a growth in the sinuses, arthritis of the hands and a stomach ailment. I was given Bacteriophage therapy. The growth in the maxillary sinus was expelled, giving me complete relief in that area. My arthritis and stomach ailment has cleared up, leaving no discomfort or pain. I am very thankful for the relief afforded me at the Clinic.

I found a Christian atmosphere throughout my stay, not only among members of the staff, but the patients also, for which I am grateful. May your good work continue so that others will know of the merits of the Schirmer system.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Rachel Hawkinson

Rev. Gerald B. Winrod
Wichita, Kansas

Dear Mr. Winrod:

For some time we have read in The Defender Magazine about the help people were receiving from the use of Bacteriophage. I had trouble with my stomach and bowels, including bloating, which caused great suffering at times. After dieting and using the medicine given by my local doctor, I would get better for short periods of time. As soon as I started eating again, the trouble would return.

On February 1, 1955, I went to the Research Clinic of Atlanta. I received an examination and it was found I had neuritis, pathology of the colon and stomach ulcers, and also arthritis. I took the treatment for nine weeks. I have definitely received relief. I am glad I heard about Bacteriophage because it has been wonderfully used of God for my physical well being.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. M. A.

Improvement enjoyed and feels better than in years. Christian fellowship at Clinic appreciated. Learned of Clinic through Defender.

Dr. Gerald B. Winrod
Wichita, Kansas

Dear Dr. Winrod:

My home is in Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin but this writing finds me in Atlanta. Through reading The Defender Magazine I became interested in treatments given at the Research Clinic and came here six weeks ago. I have had arthritis in both knees and my back. I have experienced improvement and feel better than in years. At present I am sufficiently improved to return home to take care of my business. The Christian fellowship enjoyed here at the Clinic has been an inspiration and blessing to me.

Sincerely,
C. W.

A CASE HISTORY

Mrs. J. R. J., age 43, Asthma nine years. A vicious case requiring quick attention day or night to prevent suffocation. Family doctor had instructions to drop everything and rush to her when needed. Neither she nor her husband ever knew a good night's rest.

Examination showed extensive Bronchitis. There being no family history, she was treated accordingly. Improvement noted in Bronchitis but attacks continued. We insisted upon close inquiry into family history, which brought out, among other things, the fact that grandmother suffered with migraine headaches due to an allergy.

Ethylene disupphonate administered December 8, 1951. Customary response which lasted until December 24th. On Christmas day she suffered an asthmatic attack and has never had another. Her weight has since increased from 102 to 136 pounds.

This case, treated by the present chief of staff prior to transfer of the Corning Hospital organization to Atlanta, is typical of many more benefited by the systems now being used at the Research Clinic, a Christian and Benevolent Society, located at 20 Eleventh Street N.E. (Atlanta, Georgia).

HEALTH DICTATORSHIP

WE ARE getting a look-see as to how the American Medical Association pulls strings and controls policies of the Government insofar as the Pure Food and Drug law is concerned.

Take for instance the U. S. district attorney here in Pennsylvania who is trying to destroy the new Hoxsey Cancer Clinic in Portage. First, he said the Hoxsey therapies are sugar coated pills possessing no therapeutic value; then he changed his mind along with the A.M.A. sponsorship, and said the Hoxsey tablets were only good as a cough remedy; then he changed his mind again and issued big headlines that the potassium iodide which is one of the ingredients used in the Hoxsey therapies is dangerous; and then finally he appeared before Judge Miller of the Federal Court of Pittsburgh and asked permission to open the boxes that were confiscated and take out 2,000 tablets, have them sent to the Pure Food and Drug Department (controlled body and soul by the A.M.A.) for analysis to see what they contain.

And so we have government by propaganda — a system of propaganda engineered by the most vicious health dictatorship ever known in any nation, any time in the world's history.

BOOK REVIEWS

SHALL WE FORGET FORMOSA?

Rev. Dick Hillis ... Zondervan Publishers, art covers, 36 pages, price 25 cents.

THE READER is given an inside picture of events on the Island bastion of General Chiang Kai-shek ... by a missionary who has labored faithfully for Christ in the Orient since 1933. Mr. Hillis went to China that year, at the age of 20, under the sponsorship of the China Inland Mission, the youngest missionary ever sent out by the organization.

He, his wife and children were held by Communists in North China but escaped, finally establishing a Gospel foothold in Formosa. Admiration is expressed for the General and Madame Chiang. A sigh is registered over the "wavering cooperation" granted Formosa by the United States government. Missionaries receive a warm reception on the Island. We read:

"Prior to World War II, there were only two Protestant denominations represented on Formosa. Now there are 37 mission groups. In 1950 there were approximately 30 Protestant missionaries. Today there are over three hundred ... All churches have been built by native Christians, one entirely by women. In 1953, a total of 109 churches were built ...

"Madame Chiang has repeatedly helped evangelical Christian causes. She and her friends, the wives of high-ranking officials, meet regularly for prayer. She formed the first chaplaincy corps in the Chinese army."

Mr. Hillis has learned the truth about Communism the hard way. He calls it "a religion, inspired by Satan in his ruthless, relentless war against Christianity." The armies of Chiang Kai-shek are standing like a dike, holding back a terrible red tide which threatens to engulf the entire Far East. This little book is brimful of facts, figures and missionary information.

PEARLS, POINTS AND PARABLES

Dr. F. E. Marsh ... Baker Book House, cloth binding, 275 pages, price $2.80.

THE BAKER BOOK HOUSE is bringing great books of the past back to life through what it calls the "Co-operative Reprint Library." The present book, a truly monumental work, is one of the series.

It happens that some of the finest religious writings of comparatively recent times have disappeared from the markets.

Dr. Marsh, a deep thinker on theological subjects, had a special talent for clothing his thoughts with literary excellence. His fame reached both sides of the Atlantic.

In this book, more than 250 topics are illustrated with texts of Scripture, profound teaching, striking incidents, Bible readings and classic quotations. A comprehensive Index furnishes the reader with a guide for the subject on which illumination is desired.

Ideas bulge from every chapter for sermon preparation and the construction of devotional talks and doctrinal discussions. In addition, the book will be a source of pleasure to Christians for Bible study and meditation purposes.

It is difficult to think of a subject, precious to the heart of the believer, that has been omitted. Eleven messages are listed under "A," 10 under "B," 46 under "C," etc. The Baker Book House can be proud of this addition to their Co-operative Reprint Series.

SCRIPTURE MEMORIZING MADE EASY

Rev. A. J. Stokes ... Revivalist Press, art covers, 40 pages, price 25 cents.

MR. STOKES is Pastor of a large congregation, interdenominational in character, at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Knowing the Scriptures to be inspired above all other literature, he feels that Christians should thoroughly digest their contents and store up in mind and memory, the great truths they reveal.

When Jesus was being tempted, He quoted Scripture to Satan. Followers of the Master should be similarly fortified.

Several pertinent texts are quoted, including II Corinthians 3:2-3, "Ye are ... the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but by fleshy tables of the heart." And Psalm 119:11, "Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee."

Mr. Stokes brings latest scientific knowledge, in the field of applied psychology, into the discussion. He shows how laws of the mind operate, whereby powers of concentration can be increased and the brain made responsive to righteous impulses.

Authorities are quoted to explain (a) The law of association, (b) The law of repetition, (c) The law of recency, (d) The law of vividness and (e) The law of visualization.

Dr. C. H. Betts is quoted as saying: "The more frequently a fact is recalled to consciousness, the easier and more certain the recall becomes. By the number of repetitions the series are engraved more and more deeply upon the mind."

The purpose of this valuable little book is to show (first) why Scripture passages should be committed to memory, and (second) how it can be done in an atmosphere of pleasure and profit.

THE LAND AND THE BOOK

Dr. William M. Thomson ...
Baker Book House, cloth binding,
720 pages, price $4.95.

THIS ponderous tome is, in reality, a library of biblical information, from the pen of a missionary who spent more than 30 years in Syria and Palestine. The text is profusely illuminated by scores of illustrations drawn from the manner, customs, scenes and scenery of the Holy Land.

Dr. Wilbur M. Smith says: "The most important study in our language of Bible manners and customs as they are illustrated by modern Palestinian life is the famous work, 'The Land and the Book,' by Dr. William M. Thomson."

It combines the features of a Bible dictionary and a commentary on the Scriptures. The natural environment in which Bible characters lived and wrought, is explained. Plant and animal life, hills and meadows, lakes and rivers where the Book had its origin, are brought into focus.

There is an extensive subject and textual index to guide the user to the object of immediate interest. A series of carefully prepared maps enhances the value of the work as a whole. Every Bible student, in seminary, college or privacy of home, will find in these pages a reservoir of material unexcelled in quality, compact and ready for instant use.

Dr. Thomson says in his Introduction: "The land of the Book is one vast tablet whereupon God's messages to men have been drawn, and graven deep in living characters by the Great Publisher of glad tidings, to be seen and read of all."

SERMONS ON PARABLES AND MIRACLES

Rev. Jabez Burns ... Zondervan Publishers, cloth binding,
320 pages, price $2.95.

WE HAVE before us a reprint of an exhaustive treatise on the parables and miracles of Christ, published originally in England two generations ago.

The Author is described as a "non-conformist divine who did much mission work on behalf of the Scottish Baptists, was pastor of a Perth congregation from 1830 to 1835, was pastor of a Baptist congregation at Marylebone from 1835 to 1845, traveled extensively in America and Bible lands from 1847 on." Writers on religious subjects, of past decades, put more effort into the construction of their books than is done today. They were less hurried. They plowed deeper.

Dr. Burns probably worked years on this book. Every page reflects painstaking effort, research, spiritual meditation and literary polish. The finished product is a devotional and theological masterpiece, written to live!

The complete title is, "Sketches of Sermons on the Parables and Miracles." More than five hundred such sketches appear. The discussions comprise summarized messages, or sermons, rather than mere outlines.

MEDITATIONS ON THE BEATITUDES

By Herbert V. Prochnow ...
Published by W. A. Wilde Company, cloth binding, 70 pages, price $1.50.

THIS IS a devotional book which will delight those who are striving to live (as the Author says), "the good life." The chapters are organized in a way to make pleasant reading — one a day. It is suggested by the Publishers that a period be set aside every evening for prayer, study and meditation until the book is mastered.

The Sermon on the Mount begins with eight Beatitudes ... and Mr. Prochnow has written eight Meditations, each dealing with a different Beatitude. He says:

"To place these teachings of Jesus at the very center of one's life is to have a moral and spiritual experience that will give new and decisive direction and meaning to life."

Who are the poor in spirit? Why are those who mourn especially blessed? How can a truly meek man be picked out of a crowd? What does it mean to hunger and thirst after righteousness? In what way are merciful people made the recipients of mercy? Why is spiritual sight predicated upon purity of heart? How can one really become a peacemaker? Why should those persecuted for Christ's sake be exceedingly glad?

The reader comes to feel while turning pages of this book, that he is seeing the underneath side — the deeply spiritual side of a sublime portion of Scripture.

LESSON NUMBER ONE

May 15, 1955

WHY KING UZZIAH FAILED

II Chronicles, Chapters 25 & 26.

MEMORY TEXT: "The Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep silence before him." Habakkuk 2:20.

The general plan and pattern of the lesson is as follows:

- A. Hereditary influences effect an ancient king. II Chronicles 25:1-28.
- B. Uzziah started well. II Chronicles 26:1-5.
- C. He grew in strength and increased in popularity. II Chronicles 26:6-15.
- D. He apostatized and was judged for his sins. II Chronicles 26:16-21.

(1) THE KEY WORD OF THE LESSON IS "LEPER."

Uzziah was the tenth king of Judah. He ascended to the throne in B.C. 783 at the age of sixteen. In some passages of Scripture (I Kings) his name appears as Azariah. His father Amaziah was slain by conspirators. The throne, thus vacated, was occupied by Uzziah. The decision was popular because the record says "all the people of Judah ... made him king."

Like several other rulers of Old Testament times, the new king started well, but success "went to his head." He became proud, haughty, arrogant and irreverent, reminding us of the adage that "some people can't stand prosperity." He was finally smitten with leprosy and died in isolation.

Three kings of Judah walked in similar paths — Uzziah, his father and grandfather. Joash had a splendid beginning but sank into almost unbelievable apostasy. The same thing happened during the reign of Amaziah. Today's lesson shows that Uzziah failed to benefit from the experiences of his predecessors.

Uzziah has been described as "an unworthy son of an undeserving father." It is true that his father left a bad record for incompetency and idolatry.

But Uzziah was not all bad! For a time he was influenced by the righteous Zechariah. His prosperity continued "as long as he sought the Lord." (II Chronicles 26:5)

(2) THE KEY VERSE IS II CHRONICLES 26:16.

"But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the temple of the Lord to burn incense upon the altar of incense."

Uzziah, a clever military strategist, conducted several successful wars. But at the same time, he proved himself a failure on the domestic front. Instead of consolidating his gains by strengthening the intellectual, cultural and moral aspects of the nation, he allowed spiritual foundations to deteriorate.

A well known writer puts it this way: "Like Alexander the Great, who bemoaned the fact that he had no more worlds to conquer, the king broke forth in an act of arrogance and presumption for which he was punished so severely that the remaining years of his life must have dragged out in remorse and social exclusion."

Uzziah's crime, for which such a severe penalty was exacted, bears a two-fold explanation. First, royal power was used to invade sensitive ecclesiastical areas. His principle, applied today, would unite Church and State. He presumed to put his authority above divine law given religious law.

Second, Uzziah's heart became filled with vanity, like that of Lucifer who said, "I will." Psalm 131:1 exposes this kind of wickedness ... haughty hearts, lofty eyes, performing "in great matters, in things too high for me."

Order a bundle of May Defenders ... 10 copies $1.00.

(3) THE KEY FACT: EVEN A KING CANNOT ENGAGE IN DELIBERATE SIN WITH IMPUNITY.

Action and reaction equal each other in physics. The same is true at psychological and moral levels. Outgoing sins likewise make a circle and bring judgment upon the sinner. "The wages of sin is death." "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." This law applies to kings and knaves alike.

Judgment must fall upon the sinner in this life, and the life to come, unless interrupted by repentance — in which case grace intervenes and abolishes guilt. There is no record of repentance (godly sorrow for sin) on Uzziah's part.

The word translated "trespassed" in II Chronicles 26:18 means in the original text, "presumptuous dealing with holy things."

Uzziah, intent on self-exaltation, entered the temple sanctuary, advanced towards the Holy of Holies, and proceeded to offer incense on the golden altar which stood directly before the veil that shrouded the inner chamber. The act reflected a consuming inflation of the human ego.

"Here we come again to that awful instrument, 'the heart.' How difficult to say, Lord, this is enough. Temptations come with advancement. A man is not the same in a large house that he was in a small one. It is difficult to be wealthy and keep humbled; difficult to be abounding in all the elements which men count valuable, and yet continue attendance at the Sunday School." — Joseph Parker.

Leprosy, a loathsome disease, typifies sin in Scripture. Uzziah was smitten while standing before the altar. Priests threw him bodily from the premises, instead of granting departure with dignity. He was isolated for the balance of his life in the "several house" (separate house).

In the attitude of the priests, we see the proper relation of religious leaders to corrupt officials who attain positions of public trust.

LESSON NUMBER TWO

May 22, 1955

AN ANCIENT REFORM MOVEMENT

II Chronicles, Chapters 27 to 30.
Micah, Chapters 6 & 7.

MEMORY TEXT: "The Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him." II Chronicles 30:9.

The general plan and pattern of the lesson is as follows:

- A. A nation cursed by 35 years of moral and spiritual darkness. II Chronicles, chapters 27 and 28.
- B. A nation blessed with new leadership. II Chronicles 29:1-2.
- C. Hezekiah restores divine worship and produces a revival. II Chronicles 29:3-19.
- D. Hezekiah restores strength and character to his nation. II Chronicles 30:26.

(1) THE KEY WORD OF THE LESSON IS "LETTERS."

Hezekiah was the thirteenth sovereign of the separate kingdom of Judah. He was the son of King Ahaz, a weak character who became the vassal of a neighboring Assyrian ruler and went to such idolatrous extremes as closing the Jerusalem temple and erecting shrines to heathen deities.

This conveys an idea of what Hezekiah inherited. He began his reign at the age of 25 and occupied the throne 29 years (B.C. 719-690). Benefiting from his father's mistakes, he inaugurated reform movements that retrieved past losses.

The People's Bible Encyclopedia carries the following biographical summary: "The prominent characteristics of Hezekiah were his trust in God and disposition to render Him suitable honor and service. (II Kings 18:4-6). Nor was he wanting in courage, as is shown in the stern measures adopted to reform the religion of his people as well as his revolt from the Assyrian king. His belief in prayer is seen by his earnest calling upon God during his illness, and upon the reception of Sennacherib's blasphemous letter."

Hezekiah was a publisher. He also made use of the mail service in promoting his reforms. The description of "the posts (who) went with the letters from the king throughout all Israel and Judah" adds a touch of drama to today's lesson.

(2) THE KEY VERSE IS II CHRONICLES 30:8.

"Now be ye not stiffnecked, as your fathers were, but yield yourselves unto the Lord."

Ahaz had "made molten images for Baalam" which means that a form of idolatry marked by licentiousness and sensuality existed when Hezekiah came to power. Baal, the sun god, was worshipped as the source and vehicle of physical life and possessor of the generative powers of nature. Worship consisted of wicked rites and wild orgies.

History shows that when nations become weak and decadent through moral losses, the only hope is a religious revival. (Let America take note!) The record is clear that Hezekiah sensed this fact. He was assisted by the prophets Micah and Isaiah.

Before taking steps to deliver his nation from the control of Assyria, he gave attention to internal affairs. Patriotic sentiments needed to be quickened. Right religious attitudes needed to be restored. Moral filth, rust and corrosion needed to be removed.

His first official act was to order the cleansing of the Temple. This was part of a program designed to root out Baal worship and restore to Jehovah God a rightful place in the hearts and minds of his subjects.

So great was the accumulation of dirt and rubbish that sixteen days were required to complete the task. One sees in the dirty Temple and its courts a symbol of the moral and spiritual uncleanness of the people. In re-establishing divine worship, Hezekiah was rebuilding the character and strengthening the character of his nation.

(3) THE KEY FACT: REFORM MOVEMENTS ARE A NECESSITY.

The new awakening under Hezekiah has been correctly described as, "The greatest single revival recorded in Old Testament times." Conditions which prevailed during the days of Ahaz appeared hopeless, but revivals are born in such circumstances.

Historians agree that the Wesleyan revival saved England from suicide. Writing of Florence, James Burns says: "Beneath the outward polish, there began to grow with startling rapidity, that cruelty which all men possess, and which only the fear of God imprisons; in the decay of faith these evil instincts, no longer chained, began to prowl about. Men could no longer be trusted; beneath the velvet tunic peeped the dagger, and in the sparkling cup men expected the deadly poison. Murder and incest, lust and cruelty, haunted alike the palaces of the great and the hovels of the poor. Italy was full of cutthroats."

Savonarola, like Hezekiah of old, reversed the order. God's method for correcting national ills is revival.

Moral gravitation, like physical gravitation, is downward. There is an inherent urge toward sin. This is noticeable in both men and society. Revivals and reformations to arrest these forces are a necessity. Otherwise humanity would destroy itself.

LESSON NUMBER THREE

May 29, 1955

HEZEKIAH, A GREAT KING

I Chronicles, Chapters 31 & 32.
Isaiah, Chapters 36 to 39.

MEMORY TEXT: "Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth." Psalm 124:8.

The general plan and pattern of the lesson is as follows:

- A. A great king strengthens the religious foundations of his nation. II Chronicles 31:2-21.
- B. King Hezekiah turns to God for guidance and protection in a time of national crisis. II Chronicles 32:1-20 and Isaiah, chapters 36 & 37.
- C. An act of supernatural intervention. II Chronicles 32:21.
- D. The death of King Hezekiah. II Chronicles 32:32-33.

(1) THE KEY WORD OF THE LESSON IS "MORE."

Hezekiah received from his father, Ahaz, a kingdom mortgaged to Assyria. Heavy tribute and costly presents were exacted. Out of fear of Syria and Israel, Ahaz delivered Judah into the hands of Assyria, at terrible cost.

Hezekiah viewed the situation and resolved to free his nation from the vise in which it was being held. But he knew there was a vast amount of repair work to be done on the inside before pressure could be successfully resisted from the outside.

Second Chronicles, II Kings and Isaiah contain accounts of Hezekiah's reign. All stress the sweeping religious revival which took place under his guidance. In two striking sentences, the writer of II Kings (18:5-6) describes him as a leader who "trusted in the Lord God" and "clave to the Lord, and departed not from following him, but kept his commandments, which the Lord commanded Moses."

On the fatal day when the King learned that invading Assyrian armies had crossed the frontiers of his country, he spoke words of encouragement to frightened subjects, urging them to "be strong and courageous for there be more with us than with him."

This was purely an act of faith on his part. Humanly speaking, he was at the mercy of the invaders. The "more" was an expression of reliance upon the arm of the Almighty.

(2) THE KEY VERSE OF THE LESSON IS II CHRONICLES 32:8.

"With him is an arm of flesh; but with us is the Lord our God to help us, and to fight our battles. And the people rested themselves upon the words of Hezekiah king of Judah."

The ancient city of Lachish, located 30 miles southwest of Jerusalem and 20 miles east of the Mediterranean, figures prominently in today's lesson. The mound, elaborately excavated, is one of the largest ever found in Bible lands. Some place its date of origin about 3500 B. C.

Here Sennacherib rested his armies and sent a messenger with orders for Hezekiah to surrender Jerusalem. The ultimatum was clothed with taunts and insults.

The King rent his clothing, covered himself with sackcloth and went into the Temple. At the same time, he sent a servant to Isaiah, who returned with a message of comfort and assurance. The prophet said Jerusalem would be spared and the invading hordes wiped out by an act of supernatural intervention.

In the meantime, Sennacherib sent another message, a letter, repeating his former threats and boasts. This time, instead of consulting the prophet, Hezekiah went directly to the Lord in prayer.

(3) THE KEY FACT: GOD'S CHILDREN HAVE SPIRITUAL WEAPONS.

"And the Lord sent an angel, which cut off all the mighty men of valour, and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Assyria." A plague fell during the night, leaving Sennacherib only a mere remnant of his once mighty army. Back home, he suffered death at the hands of two sons who "slew him there with the sword" as he worshipped before his god Nisoch.

We are told that great rejoicing swept through Judah. The prestige of Hezekiah and Isaiah increased. Small wonder that "many brought gifts unto the Lord to Jerusalem, and presents to Hezekiah." A dire threat to a nation, and a great national crisis, was turned into a blessing and a memorable victory, because its leaders turned to God for guidance and protection.

Every true child of God has invisible helpers. The Holy Spirit is always near. His presence should be consciously cultivated.

LESSON NUMBER FOUR

A KING REPENTS

II Chronicles, Chapter 33.

MEMORY TEXT: "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness." Psalm 143:10.

The general plan and pattern of the lesson is as follows:

- A. A king with a good heredity becomes a bad leader. II Chronicles 33:1-9.
- B. Manasseh leads his nation into evil paths and dark days. II Chronicles 33:9.
- C. Manasseh learns from painful experience that sin and judgment are inseparable. II Chronicles 33:10-11.
- D. Manasseh repents and makes restitution. II Chronicles 33:12-17.

(1) THE KEY WORD OF THE LESSON IS "SUPPLICATION."

Heredity pulls strange tricks! How a godly king like Hezekiah could have such a wicked son as Manasseh remains an unanswered question. The claim that a child's training and environment determine the character of the man often proves false.

"The wisest man may have a foolish son; the godliest home may send forth a reprobate; the child of many prayers may live a life of shame. When a young man goes wrong, it is often both unjust and cruel to lay it on the home training, and to say that there has been neglect or want of discipline, or want of right example there. It is adding another burden to hearts already weighted with intolerable grief." —J. G. Greenhough.

Manasseh was a wretch. He rebuilt the "high places" and replanted the groves of pagan worship which Hezekiah had destroyed, and then erected altars for the worship of Baalim. (II Kings 18:4 & II Chronicles 14:5)

Even more horrible was the human sacrifices which he had offered in the burning valley of Hinnom. A hideous statue of Moloch was erected, to whom parents offered up their children as burnt sacrifices.

Those were dark days for the kingdom of Judah, but the bright side of the picture is that Manasseh finally made supplication, repented and tried to undo the heinous crimes perpetrated.

(2) THE KEY VERSE OF THE LESSON IS II CHRONICLES 33:16.

"And he repaired the altar of the Lord."

Manasseh did not go unrebuked by the prophets. Good men dared to rebuke him to his face. They were branded trouble-makers and accused of sedition. The most terrible persecution in the annals of Old Testament history broke out against them. (II Kings 21:16 & 24:3)

Josephus gives fuller particulars and says executions took place every day over an extended period. This is not the last time that faithful preachers have stood in the way of wicked leaders and designing politicians.

(Mention should be made of the persecution endured by men of God who dared oppose Franklin Roosevelt's attempt to Sovietize the United States government. Walter Winchell, then a spokesman for the New Deal administration, shouted into the radio on a certain Sunday night, "Gerald Winrod has been chosen the first of a list of preachers to be sent to prison." See the book "The Sedition Case.")

The prophets of Judah were planting seed destined to germinate. They were lighting tiny flames destined to come together in a conflagration. Righteous causes always thrive on persecution, reminding us of the adage, "The blood of martyrs is the seed of the Church."

Judah, weakened by internal national sins, was an easy prey to Assyrian armies. Manasseh was made a prisoner and taken to Babylon. This adversity drove him to his knees. He prayed, was eventually restored to Jerusalem, and given an opportunity to correct, in a measure, past abuses.

(3) THE KEY FACT: RIGHTEOUS CONDUCT ACCOMPANIES REPENTANCE.

Manasseh's captivity is believed to have lasted about a year. Upon returning to Jerusalem, he took measures to make his nation secure. A series of noble reforms were introduced.

The idols and statues were removed from the Temple. Pagan altars erected on high places were torn down. The altar of the Lord was repaired and true worship restored. Final mention of Manasseh is made in II Kings 21:18, 26 & II Chronicles 33:20, describing his death and burial in the garden of Uzzah, 641 B.C.

There are indications that the King did his best, late in life, to make amends for past wrongs. The record is clear, however, that he never fully succeeded. A whole generation had doubtless grown up without religious instruction. This may account for the fact that his reforms failed to reach the heart of the nation.

Manasseh deserves credit for trying! Restitution often becomes necessary after repentance. Persons genuinely converted are frequently made conscious of wrongs to be righted. Guided by an enlightened conscience, they find joy in doing so.

THE CALLS OF GOD

BUNYAN says that the hen has four different calls to her brood: one when twilight begins to darken toward night; another when she has come across some dainty for their food; another of danger, when the hawk is hovering in the air; and yet another of yearning desire. It is thus that God calls, in whose nature every kind of love has its origin and fount.

LESSON NUMBER FIVE

June 12, 1955

REPAIRING THE LORD'S HOUSE

II Chronicles, Chapter 34.

MEMORY TEXT: "Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word." Psalm 119:9.

The general plan and pattern of the lesson is as follows:

- A. A good boy becomes a king. II Chronicles 34:1-3.
- B. During young manhood Josiah leads a reform movement. II Chronicles 34:3-7.
- C. Josiah restores pure worship. II Chronicles 34:8-13.
- D. Josiah offers a pattern for honest and constructive statesmanship. II Chronicles 34:2.

(1) THE KEY WORD OF THE LESSON IS "RIGHT."

Josiah ascended to the throne of Judah, at the age of eight, after the nation passed through a long period of moral and political disintegration. His grandfather Manasseh had ruled 50 years. His father Amon was murdered in the second year of his reign.

"The long reign of Manasseh, extending over more than a half century, had greatly demoralized the kingdom. A gross and sensual idolatry had sapped ancient morals and corrupted the whole fabric of society." —Cunningham Geikie.

Josiah became the sixteenth king of the separate kingdom of Judah. A great deal of political maneuvering took place behind the scenes to place the eight-year-old on the throne. A group which some writers call the "prophetic party" engineered the fast changing events. Hilkiah, who later became high priest, and the prophet Zephaniah, took an active part.

The boy remained wholly under the charge of his mother (II Kings 22:1). Her name was Jedidah ("beloved"). She deserves credit for the religious bent which Josiah so early exhibited and retained so strongly to the end of his life.

The word right is the pivot on which today's lesson turns. "And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord."

(2) THE KEY VERSE IS II CHRONICLES 34:3.

"In the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images."

At the age of 20, in the twelfth year of his reign, Josiah began to exercise direct leadership. As soon as the actual administration of the affairs of state came under his control, he launched a campaign to purge the nation of accumulated evils. "He began to purge Judah and Jerusalem."

Josiah knew that his people needed, above everything else, to get right with God. More than a half century of religious and political liberalism had destroyed the foundations upon which David and the "founding fathers" had erected the superstructure of government. The nation faced disaster. The six particular forms of idolatry which came under attack were:

(1) The "high places," elevations on which towers for Baal worship had been erected, (2) "groves" in which licentious orgies were conducted, (3) "carved images" to the female goddess Astarte, (4) "molten images" modeled to represent Baalim deities of nature, (5) idols set up in the Temple premises and (6) "the images on high," usually placed on rooftops in connection with the worship of heavenly bodies.

These objects of heathen idolatry were systematically destroyed by Josiah, who personally participated in the wholesale purge. Underneath all these idolatrous expressions on the surface was a rebellious attitude toward the true God.

(3) THE KEY FACT: GOD'S PROGRAM INCLUDES BOTH NEGATIVE AND POSITIVE ACTIONS.

Josiah began his negative operations of tearing down idols and abolishing heathen practices at the age of 20, in the twelfth year of his reign. Six years were required to complete the task, which suggests that he must have encountered opposition along the way.

Josiah began his positive operations of repairing the Temple and restoring pure worship at the age of 26, in the eighteenth year of his reign. Decades of disuse had left its mark. Walls were broken down. Floors were in bad condition. "Couplings" (joinings between beams) needed reinforcement. The young ruler appointed a group "to repair the house of the Lord."

Mention is made of "mattocks," implements for digging and grubbing, being used to destroy idols built to Baal. Mention is made of "artificers and builders" erecting places of worship to the true God.

Here is a lesson for Christians today. It is not enough to tear down evil. We must also build constructively to avoid a vacuum.
